Cyber police stations in Hubli, Belgaum

Monday September 25 2006 15:05 IST

HUBLI: Home Minister M P Prakash has said that the State Government was seriously considering the proposals to set up cyber police stations in Hubli and Belgaum, in the light of an alarming rise in criminal cases pertaining to cyber activities.

Speaking to reporters here on Sunday, the Minister said the Home department was aware of the rise in cyber crimes in Hubli-Dharwad and Belgaum in the recent times.

In all, 330 posts of police inspectors would be recruited soon, apart from appointing 4,300 police constables, he added. Referring to the plea of Hubli-Dharwad Police Commissioner Narayan Nadamani to sanction two more police stations in Hubli, he said the demand was under consideration and the government would take apt steps in this direction.
