WEBINAR ON "IT ACT 2008 - RISK ASSESSMENT DOMAIN"

IT Act 2008 - Risk Assessment Domain

Event Description

Indian economy has a huge stake in the development of the IT Sector. IT has already absorbed the Communication Technology & developed into a larger segment of industry recognized as Infocomm industry. While India has the necessary manpower and skill-sets to be a global leader, the one factor that often threatens the growth of Infocomm is the adverse effects of the emerging Cyber Crime scenario. The National Policies of India since the 80's has therefore been to encourage the growth of Infocomm sector by providing the industry with a strong legal foundation. It was this "Policy" to encourage "E-Commerce" that first led to the drafting of Cyber Laws in our country in the form of ITA 2000. In the last decade it was observed that the risks in Cyber Space were growing more and more menacing and therefore the National Policies for development of the Infocomm sector further dictated substantial amendments to ITA 2000 and the new version of ITA 2000 referred to as ITA 2008 became effective from October 27, 2009. We may therefore recognize that the Policy of using Infocomm as a development tool for India and "Security" as a critical necessity for this development that has given birth to the Cyber Laws in India now in the form of ITA 2008.
